Description

As the OpenNebula 3.4 final release comes closer, we would like to give the oportunity to contributors to upgrade existing translations and submit new ones.

Current Sunstone translations are:

- Russian (see attached file)
- Italian (see attached file)

Existing translation files have been upgraded (commit 0612a4ac6d2a8ed06dae6231882b863e45830ed5 in master) to include new strings which are left untranslated. They can be easily located by searching for "". For example the command:

```
$> grep '""' <translation_file.js>

prints out the lines that need to be translation in this file. Current translation completeness is around 84%.

New translations can be submitted by completing the empty translation template (en_US.js - see attached file).

Contributions can be submitted by attaching the new/upgraded translation .js files to this ticket or by email. The final release is scheduled in less than two weeks, so they should preferably be submitted this week. Later submissions will be incorporated to the 3.4 branch.

There is also a ticket for SelfSerfice translations (check related issues below).

Thanks a lot for your contributions!
