Description
I like the new vm capacity graphs I see in sunstone 4.2. It allows me to see how busy a vm is over time, without requiring me to add in-vm monitoring, which could be subverted anyways. However, it'd be nice if graphs also had a line showing what had been allocated to it, so I could see at a quick glance if I have over or under provisioned a resource.
