Description
Hello it would be nice to have a scroll bar to move through the VM log, instead of losing the top control buttons from sight. Take a look at the pictures attached. The first one has control buttons at the beginning of the log and the second, at the end, doesn't. The admin has to move all the way up to use the buttons. Another option could be inverting the log, the most recent things at the top.
